

IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF MERCHANTS

One of the peculiarities of the Venetians, it is that have always been to be big merchants. Venice was one of the most important players in trading in XVI-XVII centuries. In its rich markets it was possible to find goods coming from all over the world. In fact many of the noble families who lived in the city were devoted to trade and so they could get rich and maintain a high lifestyle and nowadays it is still usual for Venetians to shop in this market.

- TURKISH FONDACO
- CAMPO SAN POLO
- RIALTO'S MARKET
- GERMAN FONDACO
- CORTE DEL MILIONE (MARCO POLO'S HOUSE)
- CA' D'ORO
- 2H

For any further information, quotation and booking, contact us !

